Dear parents and carers,

This week has been STEM week in school. Each day, the children have been taking part in maths, science, computing and design lessons centered around the theme of the human body. The week has included studying the human hand in Willow class, food tasting in Elm class, first aid in Oak class, programming in Hazel class and pie charts on nutrition in Chestnut class. The week has culminated in a sharing assembly where the whole school presented their learning.

Hopefully you all received the letter about Class Dojo earlier this week. Class Dojo is a tool we will be using to keep you abreast of the learning going on in school. I will be periodically updating it with information and photos of the children busy at work. If you have any questions or queries about it, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,
Joseph Santy

Children in Need

Thank you all for your very generous donations. We are still counting all the coppers. Once we have a final total, we will let you know.

Christmas performance (EYFS - Year 4)

As you may be aware, Suffolk is an area of enhanced response to the COVID outbreak. This has meant additional restrictions in schools. Sadly, this means that we will be unable to hold a live performance of our Christmas production as the risk assessment indicates issues with the audience capacity. However, we are pleased that FOMSA is supporting us to have the production professionally recorded. It will be made available for you to watch free on demand (password protected) in the comfort of your own home. Please look out for a permission letter to enable your child to take part.

Christmas Jumper Day

Friday 10 December

Children can come to school wearing their favourite Christmas Jumper and if they could bring in a seasonal donation for the Stowmarket Food Bank it would be very much appreciated, suggested items sweets, biscuits, selection box etc.
