10 December 2021

Dear parents and carers,

I had the pleasure of stepping in to watch and listen to the Christmas Performance this week. It was very special watching all the children's hard work paying off on stage. The performance was professionally recorded on Wednesday and we hope it will be published on the school website very soon. We will communicate this with you the moment it is uploaded.

Over the past week we have been discussing, in class and in assembly, the school's Golden Rules. These rules include being gentle, being kind, listening, being honest, working hard and looking after property. These values are incredibly important to us at Mendlesham and we will be looking for the children to continue to show these as the school year goes on.

Kind regards,
Joseph Santy
